During the year 2011-2012, there has been a tremendous growth and expansion in the Institute which is documented and read out in each Department's Report printed herein. The PMSSY wing has been activated where in the department of Pulmonary Medicine, Pediatric Surgery, Plastic Surgery, Molecular Medicine, and Reproductive Health were established. Thirty one broad and super specialty courses in area of Medical and Surgical, Laboratory services and Radiation sciences were rolled out during the year in the Institute. 643 nos beds along with 110 nos ICU/HDU/MICU beds along with 137 Nos, other beds 30 emergency beds totaling to 920 beds were made available in the hospital. 103 renal transplants were performed in this year 2011. The upcoming Trauma Centre of SGPGIMS level III has been initiated by the Ministry of Health and Family Welfare, Govt. of India. The institute has been recently being made the nodal centre for the national organ procurement and transplant network. IGNOU and Ministry of the Health Govt. of India has appointed SGPGIMS as a programme study centre for their certificate course in Dialysis management. The Central Govt. has also proposed to setup Paramedical Training Centre at the institute shortly. Free bus services for patients and their attends from main gate to OPD and back have been started, ATM of State Bank of India have been installed at two places in the Institute campus. A major facility which was extended to the patients this year was the provision of paying the bills through Debit/Credit cards which was a very felt need of the patients. Rogi Mitras were appointed in the OPD for helping/guiding/assisting patients in the hospital free of cost. Many volunteers turned up to offer their services as Rogi Mitras on honorary basis.

SGPGIMS has been ranked 7th among the Indian Universities for their research output and quality using new performance index. It is ranked first in Medical institution all over India.

The Ministry of Health & Family Welfare, Govt. of India granted corpus of Rs.50.0 lacs for patients Below Poverty Line. Cancer aid Funds corpus of Rs.10 lacs also provided by the Ministry. The Kamdhenu Ati Nirdhan Sahayata Samiti which was established with Rs.1 core aid from State Govt had current corpus of Rs.17.75 crores mainly supported from the HRF profits. More than 1200 patients have been benefited by the society this year. Active ongoing projects nearing completion are the Centre for hepatic-biliary diseases and transplantation, hematology and stem cell transplant, Animal house, Library building and lecture theatre complex, Trauma centre and the college of Technology.

I have full hope that the Institute will scale newer heights and set new benchmarks for others to follow. There needs to be a concerted effort on the part of faculty members, Resident doctors, Research Scholars, Officers, staff and other employees together in providing the services of high quality patient care. The Central and State Government would continue to support us monetarily in carrying out the developmental activities of the Institute and for their maintenance and progress.

I, on behalf of the Institute, invite the medical and paramedical fraternity globally to visit our Institute and join us in providing high quality patient care and research activities.

With best wishes

Teaching

The department of Medical Genetics is running the DM program. The department has been organizing various training and academic programs for spreading the knowledge of genetics amongst clinicians. The Tenth ICMR Course on Medical Genetics and Genetic Counseling and First Indo US Symposium on Skeletal Dysplasia were such major events organized by the department during 2011 -12 sponsored by ICMR and Indo US Forum of Science and Technology respectively. DNA diagnostics 2012 was the workshop organized for young budding molecular biologists and was successful in its objective. Summer trainees were provided training by various labs of the department.

Patient Care

The department is providing the state of art molecular and cytogenetic diagnostic investigations for genetic disorders. This includes prenatal diagnosis by invasive and non invasive methods. This year the department acquired microarray scanner and has introduced microarray based cytogenetic analysis. In addition to cytogenetic microarray the department is performing other molecular cytogenetic techniques; namely Q F PCR, MLPA and Fluorescence in situ hybridization. This year the department introduced molecular cytogenetic tests for various triplet repeat disorders namely; Huntington's chorea, Myotonic dystrophy and Friedreich ataxia. The other new tests established during this year were screening of newborns for preventable causes of mental retardation. The department runs OPD on all 6 days a week and 2127 new and 2746 previously registered patients were seen in the OPD and diagnostic and treatment facilities were provided. The department gets funds from the government of Uttar Pradesh for the management of patients with hemophilia. The grant of Rs 2 crore was utilized to provide antihemophilic factors to the patients with hemophilia. Surgical and nonsurgical treatments were provided to hemophilia patients for lifesaving bleeding problems. At present there are 400 patients of hemophilia registered in the department of Medical Genetics, at SGPGIMS, Lucknow. Four hundred and fifty patients of thalassemia major are being treated regularly with hypertransfusion therapy.

M.Ch. Training Programme : The department is running 3 years M.Ch. training programme recognized by the Medical Council of India. Four candidates are selected once in each year by an open all India level competitive examination. These candidates receive hands-on training experience in all field of neurosurgery including micro-neurosurgery, spine surgery, vascular neurosurgery, pediatric neurosurgery, onco-neurosurgery and peripheral nerve injuries etc. They actively participate in the management of neurosurgical cases and departmental academic activities as pre-operative discussions, seminars, journal club, neuro-pathology and neuro-radiology conferences and group discussions. Four candidates have successfully completed their M.Ch. training in the last year. Currently the department is also having a Post doctoral fellow in Pediatric Neurosurgery which is first of its kind in India.

Departmental Activities

Services

Two state of the art dual head SPECT- CT Gamma camera (Wipro GE Infinia Hawkeye) and third dual head SPECT gamma camera Symbia of Siemens have been installed in the department of Nuclear Medicine. The department has also installed a forth dual head SPECT-CT Gamma camera of Wipro GE to cope-up the load of the patients to keep the waiting time as minimum as possible for patients. The systems installed are State of the art nuclear medicine imaging systems with a provision of acquiring both nuclear medicine SPECT images as well as CT images from the single gantry. It offers excellent imaging performance for virtually all patient studies including those related to Cardiac, Brain, Kidney, Bone, Thyroid, Cancer patients, Joint, infection and inflammatory disorders. The unique feature of image fusion i.e. fusion of nuclear medicine SPECT image with CT image enables increased diagnostic information and precise tumour localization for optimal patient management.

The SPECT (CT) systems installed in the nuclear medicine department at SGPGIMS would be of immense help in not only acquiring diagnostic images of high resolution with a very short scanning time but also the fusion of image would help in accurate localization of tumours, treatment and disease monitoring as well as pre-surgical planning of cancer patients. The system offers a wide range of applications in management of Oncology patients as well.

The installation of SPECT (CT) (64 Slice) system under PMSSY scheme is almost completed. This will offer boost to the diagnosis of coronary artery disease as both coronary CT angiography and SPECT myocardial perfusion will be combined for comprehensive diagnosis coronary artery disease.

The department is now anxiously waiting for construction and installation of PET facility. The creation of PET-CT facility at SGPGIMS would very useful in cancer patients at SGPGIMS but also help other cancer centers and research Institutions of the State.

The department of nuclear medicine at SGPGIMS being the only department in the entire State of UP caters to not only the patients from UP but also from other States like Bihar, Orissa, Jharkhand, West Bengal etc. The patient from Nepal also frequents the department for their investigation and treatment. The department is now doing any investigation of patient referred to the department within a week's time.

Investigations

Following investigations and therapeutic procedures are carried out routinely as patient care services by the department.

Bone Marrow, Brain perfusion SPECT, CSF (Cisternography), G.I. Bleeding detection study, Gastric Emptying, Heart (First Pass), Heart (MUGA), Hepatobiliaryscintigraphy, Renal cortical scan (DMSA), Lacrimal Duct, Liver Spleen, Lymphatic System (Lymphoscintigraphy), Meckel's Diverticulum, Myocardial Infarct, Myocardial Perfusion (Tc99m-MIBI), Gastroesophageal reflux study, Parathyroid Imaging, Perchlorate Discharge Test, Phleboscintigraphy, Radio Iodine Uptake, Radioiodine Whole Body scan, Renal Transplant Study, Diuretic Renogram, Renovascular Hypertension (Renogram with Intervention), Salivary glands, Skeletal System, Testicular Scan, Thyroid Scan, Vesico-ureteric Reflux study, Tumor imaging with Thallium-201 and Tc99m-MIBI, and In-Vitro Studies, infection imaging, GFR measurement by plasma clearance method..

Estimation of GFR by sample method and in a very short spare of time more than a 1608 tests have already been performed after proper standardization. This diagnostic procedure introduced by the department has found to be of immense clinical utility in the overall management of the cases of renal dysfunction.

Due to availability of Samarium-153 by BRIT, BARC, it has been possible to introduce this therapy for palliation of pain caused by skeletal metastases. The department runs an OPD on 5 days a week for follow up of thyroid patients treated with radioiodine. They constitute both benign (hyperthyroid) and malignant disorders. In the current year 560 admitted (indoor) patients were seen in the departmental OPD.

Following diagnostic investigations were carried out during the year of reporting.

Teaching & Training

Regular teaching sessions were held during reporting for the residents. Academic activities were focused on scheduled programme of Journal Clubs, Seminars, inter departmental Clinical meetings. Faculty lectures were held once in a week to highlight recent trends & collateral developments. In addition didactic lectures for postgraduate students on topics related to basic sciences in Nuclear Medicine were also organized. Regular faculty meetings were held to discuss various issues related to department including the planning and further development of the teaching and clinical activities of the department. M.D. Students of Radio-diagnosis, Radiotherapy, Pathology, Cardiology & Gastroenterology were posted in the department for short term exposure as part of their training programme. As a special feature weekly lectures for technical staff and case review meetings with participation of technicians were held on every Saturday. Since the new building under Pradhan Mantri Swasthya Suraksha Yojana (PMSSY) is under construction, the new department of Paediatric Surgery has been allocated 10 beds on the first floor of the Advanced Pediatric Centre. The dept. runs 2 outpatient clinics every week (Tuesday and Thursday), has 10 beds and 2 operating session per week. Once the new building becomes functional, the dept. shall have 30 in-patient beds (inclusive of 10 ICU beds), and out-patient clinics and operating sessions on all five days a week.

An average of 100 cases receives consultation in the OPD every month. A total of 1107 patients received consultation in the OPD in the year under review.

The thrust areas for clinical and research work in the department currently are: hepato-biliary surgery, surgery for portal hypertension, gastrointestinal bleed, diseases of the pancreas, esophageal replacement operations, restorative proctocolectomy, pediatric malignancies and re-operative surgery in small babies. The dept. of Paediatric Surgery at SGPGIMS, Lucknow is recognized as one of the few high volume centres for complex pediatric biliary surgery and surgery for portal hypertension across the country. In the year 2011, a total of 151 major surgical procedures were performed. Of the operative procedures performed in this year, the special surgical procedures performed were: Portoenterotomy for Biliary atresia, Choledochal Cyst excision, Porto-systemic Shunt procedures for Portal Hypertension, Pancreatic resections for pancreatic tumours and pancreatic duct drainage procedures for chronic pancreatitis, Esophageal replacement for corrosive stricture esophagus, Surgical procedures for gastrointestinal bleed, Restorative proctocolectomy. The department provides round the clock emergency services and paediatric surgical cover for all patients admitted under paediatric gastroenterology and any other specialty of the institute.

Teaching and Training

The Department has regular interactive teaching sessions with dept. of Pediatric Gastroenterology, Radiology and other allied departments. Departmental Activities

The Department of Radiodiagnosis has been functioning since January 1988. It is equipped with all the latest modern imaging facilities such as 3 Tesla Magnetic Resonance Imaging, 64 Slice Brilliance CT Scanner, 128 Slice CT Scanner, Digital Radiography, Computerized Radiography, Digital Subtraction Angiography, Ultrasonography, Intravenous Urography, Mammography, Conventional and Mobile X-ray Units. The Department provides the entire spectrum of routine and emergency radiological services, which include conventional, modern imaging and interventional facilities under one roof. This setup is unique in the state and in fact very few hospitals in our country can equal this. The clinical work is complementary to the super-specialty nature of the Institute. The faculty of the Department is also well trained and has specialized in various fields of Radiology to cover the entire range of investigations and treatment options. In addition to the clinical work, the Department also has teaching (MD, PDCC, Ph.D.) and post-MD training programs in the form of junior and senior residencies. Additionally, the department has been imparting training for the Radiologists from various part of the state. There are interdepartmental as well as intradepartmental academic sessions, which serve to enhance the knowledge of all participants. In the research area, in the field of MR, applications of diffusion tensor and perfusion imaging in various neurological disorders are being investigated. In the second thrust area, i.e. the development of Indigenous materials for interventional procedures, the deployment of indigenous stent has been extended in Venous-occlusive diseases and continued in diseases involving hepato-biliary system, esophagus and urethra.

Overview

54th Governing Body of the Institute dated 26.11.2002 created "Investigation Revolving Fund" (IRF) nine years ago to re-organize the purchase of all lab consumables required for patients' tests & investigations and installation of maintenance free laboratory equipment at no cost basis in most efficient and cost-effective manner on the "Principle of Self-sustainability". The object of IRF was to provide all lab consumables from day-to-day proceeds under the head of Investigation and it should meet the day-to-day running cost of all the tests & investigations listed on "Hospital Information System" (HIS) of the Institute. The concept of revolving fund is new "Purchase Mantra" for smooth & cost effective functioning of the Laboratories of the Institute. IRF has been playing a significant role in improving the Laboratory services. The Govt. of U.P. has made the first Regulations-2011 of the Institute and approved the functioning of IRF under section 20 (4), 41 (1) (b) and 41 (1) (e), vide at page 56-para 22 of the Regulation-2011.

The process of procurement of consumables is coupled with proper "utilization of goods" and realization of highly subsidized cost of tests & investigations. IRF has been making the "strong & outstanding contribution" to make accountable all labs and has been improving the functional status of all laboratories year after year.

IRF Purchase

IRF Purchase deals with the procurement of Diagnostic kits & Reagents, Chemicals & lab consumables, Glassware & Plastic-ware, Medical X-ray films, Blood bags, Radioisotopes and Installation of maintenance free laboratory Equipment at no cost basis. Purchase of all lab consumables is based on realization of cost from the different tests & investigations listed on HIS. IRF has made the purchase to the tune of Rs. 12,46,04,849.00 in the year 2011-12 as detailed below (Given on next page in Table 1).

IRF Store

IRF Store does not raise any indent of any consumable on behalf of user. All users have been submitting their "Material Requirement Planning" (MRP) on the basis of past consumption or on utilization basis of goods against
